THE IDEAL FRAMEWORK

Office of International Affairs "Translation Services Center"

Going Well:

Cross-unit collaboration with key stakeholders in academic and administrative units.

Project Description:

The Translation Services Center (TSC) will harness the translation skills of UO faculty and staff, support academic and professional opportunities for students, and provide emergency and routine business-related translation services for a wide range of UO stakeholders and community partners.

Lesson Learned:

The need for translation services is high and exists across all levels of the university (academic and administrative units, faculty, staff, and students) and across the Eugene-Springfield community.

Challenge:

Designing a sustainable model that fulfilled our emergency translation and routine business needs.
